

Now Are the Days Children Need Care

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones if Bowels
Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her child than to train it from early infancy to regular habits, not only as a preventive against much of the illness to which children are more or less subject, but also to insure their health in later life.

Normal activity of the bowels is the basis of sound health. This is especially true with children in hot weather. Do not neglect any tendency they may show to constipation, but promptly administer a gentle laxative, that will carry off the coated waste without shocking the system.

An excellent remedy for this purpose is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for only fifty cents a bottle. It does not contain opiates, narcotics, or harmful habit-forming drugs of any description, acts easily and naturally without griping or other discomfort and is positive in its effect. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been the standard remedy in countless homes for a quarter of a century and thousands of mothers testify to its virtues. If you have never used it, get a bottle from your druggist or write for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 463 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

TESTIMONY IN BEHALF OF ACCUSED CHICAGO POLICE Former Partner of Ex-Detective Egan Assumes Responsibility.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Testimony in behalf of Walter O'Brien and William Egan, former detectives, on trial charged with accepting bribes for protection of the "clairvoyant trust," was given today. John Dempsey, former partner of Egan, testified that it was he and not Egan who suggested the arrest of Frank Ryan, self-confessed head of the clairvoyants' organization and gave details of the arrest and subsequent release of Ryan. Earlier in the day Judge O'Connor ruled against the admission of testimony concerning the shooting of a man in which "Barney" Bertische and Detective Egan and James Monaghan received bullet wounds October 17, 1914. The defense had the names of one hundred witnesses to the shooting.

State Revision Commission Meets. Hartford, Conn., Aug. 3.—The commission on statute revision held a meeting at the capital today, all the members being present with the exception of Harry Back. Chairman Frank E. Healy said the commission merely took up consideration of the appointment of the work of revision and adjourned to next date.

Hartford.—The receipts at the Hartford postoffice for the month of July amounted to $62,873.51, which is an increase of $5,780.45 over the receipts of the same month last year, which were $57,093.06.

STRICKEN WITH HEART FAILURE WHILE DRIVING AUTOMOBILE Dr. Elmer L. Styles Died Before Physician Could Reach Him.

New Britain, Conn., Aug. 3.—Dr. Elmer L. Styles, of this city, one of the best known physicians in this part of the state, was stricken with heart failure while driving his automobile in Newington this afternoon. He died before physicians could reach his side. The automobile struck a telegraph pole, but was not badly damaged. Dr. Styles was born in St. Johnsbury, Vt., about 75 years ago. He served through the Civil war with Company I, Eleventh Vermont Infantry. He is survived by his second wife, two daughters and a son. One of the daughters is the wife of Dr. J. E. Stoddard of Meriden.

New Haven Saloonkeeper Sandbagged. New Haven, Conn., Aug. 3.—The police were informed today by Edward Vise, a saloonkeeper, that he was sandbagged and robbed late last night as he was passing through a suburban street, which, however, is just over the town line. A complaint of sandbagging has not been lodged with the police for a considerable period.

Richard Lorenz, Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 3.—Richard Lorenz, 55, an artist, who has been awarded many medals at world exhibitions for his paintings of western subjects, died here today from a stroke of apoplexy suffered yesterday.

LID DOWN WESTERLY ADVERTISING

Manager of Playhouse Wanted to Display Signs on the Bridge
—He Asked Police and Now the Law is On—Dr. Gunn of Philadelphia Had Arm Broken Cranking Machine—Inquest by Coroner Case.

The request of the manager of a local playhouse for permission to place advertising signs on the Westerly section of the Pawtucket river bridge, a privilege that was enjoyed by other managers and which he could have had without the asking, has resulted in a general enforcement of the law in regard to that form of advertising. The manager was informed that the signs on the bridge were there without authority, when he made request for the permit at a meeting of the town council, and that the chief of police would order their removal. Now all advertising signs on the bridge have been removed, as has also all curbside advertisements, and merchants are not allowed to encroach on the inner side of sidewalks beyond 16 inches from the building, for a display of their wares. The ordinance relative to these matters had not been enforced, and probably would have been allowed to continue as in the past, if direct request had not been made for a privilege that the council could not grant legally.

In this connection the law approved April 21, 1915, and which will be in effect Sept. 1, will be of interest. A person who willfully or maliciously places, removes, injures or destroys a mileboard, milestone, danger sign or signal, or guide sign or post, or any inscription thereon, lawfully placed, or affixed, any business or commercial advertisement on or to any stone, tree, fence, stump, pole, building or other object, or causes to be painted, printed, stumped, pole, mileboard, milestone, danger sign, guide sign, guilpost, billboard, building or other object within the limits of a public highway, is punishable by a fine of not less than $5, nor more than $25, or by imprisonment for a term of not less than 30 days, or both, and in any case, if the advertisement is on or to a public highway or violation of the provisions of this act may be taken down, removed or destroyed by anyone.

Dr. Malcolm Gunn of Philadelphia, with summer home at Quonochontaug, had his right forearm broken Monday night while attempting to crank his automobile when in Canal street. He immediately rushed that a bone had been broken and called in Dr. John L. May, who reduced the fracture. Last summer, while operating his automobile on the Shore road, he met with a accident which resulted in a broken leg. Dr. Gunn is the owner of several cottages at Quonochontaug, and among the best known summer residents in the vicinity of Westerly.

Judge Edward M. Burke held regular session of the Western probate court Tuesday afternoon, when petition to probate the will of Margaret B. O'Brien was denied. The petition was filed to admit the signatures to the will of a quarter interest in real estate, to her sister, Annie M. O'Brien. Under the law the property belongs to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Brien, and in compliance with the expressed wish of the deceased, the will was over Margaret's interest to her sister, Annie O'Brien. Patrick H. O'Brien, a brother, was nominated as executor in the will. The first and final account of the administratrix of the estate of John A. Phillips was received, approved and ordered recorded. The inventories were received and ordered recorded of the estates of Harriet N. Pendleton, valuation $13,929.99.

LIFE SAVED AFTER OPERATION FAILED

Mrs. Clara Shaw of Providence Used Wonderful Remedy.

Mrs. Clara Shaw of 493 Dexter St., Providence, R. I., was a sufferer from stomach and liver troubles for many years. She was treated both in the United States and abroad. She underwent an operation. Still she suffered. Then she took May's Wonderful Remedy and found swift relief. In a letter telling of her case she said: "I received your sample treatment the day before Christmas and it saved my life, for I was almost gone. I had an inflammation that got right up in my throat and seemed to choke me. My neighbors say it is a miracle, as they know how I suffered. I am better now than I have been for 20 years." May's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee. If not satisfied, factory money will be returned.
